MARKET ANALYST ★ ENTREPRENEUR ★ INVESTOR

Frank Curzio is one of America's most respected stock and digital securities experts.

He learned the tools of the trade working alongside his dad, Frank Curzio Sr.—a portfolio manager and award-winning investment newsletter publisher.

Frank went on to develop a world-class track record in his own right, uncovering the best small and mid-cap stock ideas for one of the richest hedge fund managers on Wall Street.

Today, Frank is best known as CEO of Curzio Research and host of the widely popular Wall Street Unplugged podcast, ranked the No. 1 “most listened to” financial podcast on iTunes over multiple raking cycles. The show features interviews with Frank’s renowned network with over 1,000 interviews of CEOs, heads of state, presidential cabinet members, leading economists, hosts of some of the most widely watched financial shows, award-winning doctors, stock analysts, portfolio managers, serially successful entrepreneurs, and more...

Frank is also editor of Curzio Venture Opportunities - a small-cap advisory, Curzio AI - his newest service, and The Dollar Stock Club - a weekly trading service that focuses on market dislocations.

As a digital asset trailblazer, Frank launched Crypto Intelligence advisory in 2018, and in 2019, successfully launched the first security token offering (STO) in the financial publishing industry.
